- Runs from 17:30 to 20:00, harnesses and shoes are provided.
- Show your membership receipt at reception for access

Insurance Document from NUSport

- Insurance relating to the club has been ambiguous and an ongoing issue

- A copy of the document can be provided for personal reference by contacting the committee

Decision

2. Trips so far

Beginner Climbing

Two beginner trips have been run so far.

First was rained out and went to Pulse instead. Good turnout (28 people).

Second beginner climbing, good weather, all signups showed. Brown snake was spotted on the day.

Beginner Canyoning

Canyoning trip, multiple snakes, no other issues other than leaky dry-bags leading to losing a first aid kit. However some equipment was salvaged. Beta run for proposed annual trip.

Treetops trip

Treetops trip was paid for on C&S subsidy. Everyone who bought a ticket (except one) showed up and enjoyed the trip. Full subsidies cannot continue for this trip in the future but partial subsidies may be possible.

Trip Feedback Form

Attendees would like a trip feedback form after every trip.

Tasks

- ✓ Trip Feedback form
Assignee: Felix Gifford
Due date: 05-04-2018
- ✓ See to purchase of new first aid kit
Assignee: Felix Gifford
Due date: 04-04-2018

3. Training Nights

- We want to re-start and re-vamp training nights. This will involve skills training for all NUMC members, especially those who are interested in becoming trip leaders.
- We need to decide what skills to focus training sessions on, and we will discuss this with the NUMC Community along with NUMC Alumni and ex-Committee.
- Contact with previous presidents and Alumni to assist training (Pok Siwinski, Andrew Godwin, Michael Leong, Tom Gollan, Michael Davis)

Skills Discussed:

- Knots, Abseils, Basic Ropework, Anchor Setups, Lead climbing, Basic equipment familiarisation, Ropecare.
- Non-climbing skills: Navigation, General Camping, Hiking intuition/possibilities, Bushcraft, Survival, Outdoorsmanship, etc.
- Introduction to climbing theory/technique
- Self rescue skills
- Need to fill the gap between beginner climbing trip and more advanced level.
- Lead belay can be taught walking on stairs.

- Lead climbing requires more vocational experience
- Cleaning can be taught indoors
- Start with beginner skills to get the teaching methods organised

- Trad-climbing is too advanced to maintain a skills base in the trip and there is a lack of skilled alumni.
- Kayaking has similar issues, however trad and kayaking equipment doesn't expire, and could be used in the future.

- Need to consider the order of skills being taught – curriculum (working groups to develop this)
- Educating beginners on what skills there are to learn.
- Training is a good way to judge the character of beginners.
- Skill fade is an issue to be considered with trainers.

- We should provide training for trips we don't currently run but want to in the future, such as more advanced level trips.

- There are quarries in Jesmond and Glenrock that are good for vertical training.

Certification

- NUMC Training needs to mean something
- Logbook
- Skills night before trips

Timings

- Thursday clashes with external events.
- Tuesday clashes with NUDES and climbing nights.
- Need to consider when the trainers are free (outside 9-5)

Max Cullen is the most vocal part of the club, Cooper is glad he got a haircut.

Decision

4. Suggestions for Upcoming Trips

Suggestions for major trips (Mid year break)

- Warrumbungles trip (2016)

8. Feedback

80% of people want more 'camping and chill' trips (survey)

Few people are satisfied

1. Club trips
2. Training
3. Social

Ambiguities on the form need to be fixed.

What incentives can we use to get more help and alumni? Skill retention is a big issue relating to this.

Decision

Publicise the results of the survey

9. Trip Leading and Alumni Retention

Alumni Retention

- Other clubs have alumni bases
- Trip levels are too basic and alumni are more interested in advanced trips.
- We dont hire tech gear due to nusport restrictions, alumni generally have their own gear

Last year the club started a risk assessment process for each discipline of activity the club runs.

Caving (Horizontal), Canyoning (Horizontal), and short bushwalking are complete. Climbing is half done (Top rope is done, Lead climbing is not).

These risk assessments are not intended as training documents yet but will be useful in the future.

Australian standards are good for trip planning and risk assessment

The issue with the risk assessment process is that trips cannot run until the paperwork is done. The club needs to keep running trips to stay alive.

Club needs to keep trips going to stay alive

Kara and Max can work on lead climbing risk assessment

Australian Standards require official certification, which we cannot provide.

There are issues with leaders using their own gear, however all gear used must meet Australian Standards.

We need a gear inspection policy for trips to deal with this, with a distinction between hard/soft and personal/shared gear.

Decision

Policy should be written w.r.t. gear use

Tasks

- ☑ Organize risk assessment for Lead Climbing
